ACG 3401 Accounting Information Systems (AIS) covers accounting systems concepts needed by accountants to understand information flows in business events and processes, minimize risk to the integrity of data, and understand the structure of accounting data. AIS provides students with an understanding of small business accounting software as well as skills needed in auditing. Concepts taught build on material taught in introductory computing (ISM 3011) and introductory accounting (ACG 3103) courses and introduces the student to concepts used in Auditing 1 (ACG 4632).

Prerequisite(s): ACG 3103 and ISM 3011 with minimum grades of C

ETS Exam in GEB 4890:

The knowledge you are gaining in the business foundation and core courses in principles of accounting, computers, economics, finance, information systems, law, management, marketing, and operations serves to prepare you for the Educational Testing Service (ETS) exam. All business majors are required to take the ETS exam at the end of GEB 4890 in order to graduate with a BS degree.

While your performance on the ETS exams will not impact your grade in GEB 4890, please take this exam very seriously. It is one of the tools used to assess the BS degree program in accounting. It is imperative that you do your best in answering the questions. Otherwise, the results will not be reliable and the assessment will not be robust, a result that may jeopardize our SACS accreditation and the Academic Learning Compact we made with the State of Florida, along with having a negative impact on our AACSB accreditation (more about AACSB at: <http://www.fgcu.edu/cob/> and click on the AACSB logo at the top left).

Those students performing above 80% on the ETS exam will receive a letter of commendation from the Dean recognizing this achievement which can be used as a resume item.

Learning Goal	Outcome	Assessment
Understand the business environment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Demonstrate knowledge of AIS internal controls over financial reporting (ELO1). • Demonstrate knowledge of ethical issues as they apply to corporate governance (ELO2). 	Assignments and Exams
Be effective problem solvers	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Analyze business rules as they apply to the revenue cycle and the purchase acquisition cycles (PLO1) 	Assignments and Exams
Be effective communicators	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Develop queries to obtain relevant information from an AIS (CLO1). • Develop models that communicate reliable information concerning the AIS (CLO2). • Develop your oral and written communication skills.(CLO1) & (CLO2) 	Assignments and Exams

When assessing the LOs above, if 90% of the students answer 80% of the question(s) correctly the assessment is exemplary; if 80% of the students answer 80% of the question(s) correctly the assessment exceeds expectations; if 70% of the student answer 80% of the question(s) correctly the assessment meets expectations; if less than 70% of the students answer 80% of the question(s) correctly, the assessment is below expectations; and if less than less than 60% of the students answer 80% of the question(s) correctly, the assessment fails.

Course Policies

As of fall 2015, all faculty members are required to confirm a student's attendance for each course by the end of the first week of classes. Failure to do so will result in a delay in the disbursement of your financial aid. The confirmation of attendance is required for all students, not only those receiving financial aid.

In this course the confirmation of attendance will be the completion of the syllabus quiz in Canvas. See the draft “COURSE SCHEDULE of ASSIGNMENTS and ACTIVITIES” below. Failure to complete the mandatory attendance confirmation syllabus quiz will result in a 10 point reduction in overall course points.

The material and points for the missed exam will be added to the final. Therefore, if a student misses an exam because of an illness, the missed exam material and points will be added to the final. If a student misses more than one exam, alternative arrangements must be made with the instructor. If a student misses the final exam, alternative arrangements must be made with the instructor.

All student work (i.e., assignments, quizzes, projects and exams) submitted must be the students own original work for this course. Submitting work obtained from other students (past or present) or from publisher, author support materials or any other sources is prohibited and allowing another student to submit your work as their own is prohibited. Failure to comply can result in a grade of zero for the student submission and/or course failure. Please carefully read the University statement on Academic Dishonesty (below) as all of its provisions apply.

Course Requirements

Individual –

Three exams are required in this course. There are twelve (12) scheduled chapter quizzes plus the attendance confirmation syllabus quiz. The ten highest quiz grades will be used to compute your quiz points, however failure to complete the mandatory attendance confirmation syllabus quiz will result in a 10 point reduction in overall course points.

Project –

An integrated project is required. Students will be assigned to groups for this project; student grades for this assignment will be based on the group submission AND individual contribution to the assignment. This means students in the same group may receive different grades for the integrated project.

Assignments and Quizzes

All assignments (including quizzes) are due 15 minutes before the beginning of class, on the due date in Canvas unless otherwise specified. Students should be prepared to discuss assignments. No late assignments will be accepted. There are no make ups for missed quizzes, however only the 10 best quiz scores will be counted towards your final grade.

Discussions and Weekly Feedback

Discussion Posts (Muddiest Points) & Weekly Feedback will not be accepted after the due date.

Attendance Policy

All students are expected to prepare for and participate in class. You are expected to be an active participant in the learning process. Students who feel somewhat timid about verbal participation are strongly encouraged to give it a try. A good way to start is by bringing in accounting/industry news. There is no safer place to exercise your speaking skills than in class. Obviously, to make a contribution, you must attend class. Excellence means being prepared, attentive, and involved.

Examinations

The examinations may include any or all of the following question types: multiple choice, short answer, applied problems, or case analyses. Examinations are based on material in the textbook and on class lectures. The Access and Excel exam will be administered using a computer and requires a demonstration of Access and Excel skills. Therefore, it is important to allocate the tasks of the integrated project such that every group member learns ALL the applied skills.

Incompletes

Incompletes are only granted in extreme circumstances, not for work-related deadlines, prior personal commitments, or falling behind in readings or assignments. An instructor may only grant an incomplete if the student has completed 60% of the course work and has maintained a 'B' in the completed course work. Instructors have the right to deny requests for Incompletes, and/or require work for incompletes to be submitted prior to the maximum 12-month extension referenced in FGCU's policy.

Teaching Philosophy

I view education as an interactive process between student and professor designed to establish a solid basis for lifelong learning. Today's business environment is an increasingly sophisticated global environment in which accounting tasks are more complex and ever changing. I encourage you to view the business world as a nexus of unstructured problems, many of which have yet to be identified. Practicing a proactive approach to problem identification will allow you create value for yourself and those around you.

Additional Instructor Information

I received my Ph.D. from Mississippi State University (2013). I have also received a Master of Professional Accountancy (MPA) and a Master of Science in Information Systems. My research interests include accounting information systems, fraud examination, forensic accounting, emerging technologies and auditing. My research is typically behavioral research. I have prior IT related work experience in IBM and HP in Singapore.
